EXCHANGES.

The Bay City Lumbeerman Gazette learns that Macosta village will make the effort to find salt by putting down a well, having faith that kind fortune has placed her within the great salt basin of Michigan.

The Traverse Bay Eagle speaking of a Ladies Bazaar in the growing City it so warmly espouses says with generosity: As is well known Traverse City has few people who are not self-supporting, but sickness placed several families of new comers, last winter, in a position where a little help was gratefully received.

The Adrian Record makes a good show in telegrams.

The Grand Rapids School Newspaper on the "burdens of life, is philosophic: A burden which crushes one man to earth another man will carry without any great effort. The wind that freezes one only serves to brace another. The difference may be constitutional, or the result of discipline, or both. All the burdens we carry either weaken or strengthen us. "To suffer and be strong," indicates the highest style of man.

The Wolverine Citizen says: Mr. C. J. Haas, of this city, has invented or patented an improved tailor's iron or "goose."

The Allegan Gazette can distill humor and give it flavor. In speaking of a contemporary's account of a Mr. D. B. Allen being attacked by a bull he was leading, he adds: Were it not known that the editor of the Democrat is a classic Greek and not a Milesian, we should suspect the bull in this case to be Irish and not Jersey.

The Ogemaw County Herald is not satisfied with the intellectual balance of the "bourbons": Democratic members with their usual ability will probably furnish material for the next Republican campaign.

The Schoolcraft County Pioneer may not be far wrong when he says: Novel reading is condemned from the pulpit and often from the press, yet the habit is increasing; these denunciations can only serve to increase the desire for that kind of literature. We can see nothing wrong in reading novels unless they may be of the lowest order.

The Lansing State Capitol says: The news from Washington indicates that Senator Palmer makes no secret of his intention to place Mr. Livingston in the custom house at Detroit vice Digby V. Bell.

The Elk Rapids Progress puts the Chicago Weekly News with itself for $1.50 per year.

The Bay City Tribune put it in a nutshell: If protection increases the profits of manufacturers, the very increase will operate to increase the competition. It is when profits are low and precarious that the foundation of monopolies is laid.

The Detroit Free Press notices the changes in one hundred years; Nearly all the recent New York hotels seems to be baptized by Englishmen. The Brunswick the Westminster, the Windsor and now the Langham show the wide departure from the days of the Astor House the St. Nicholas, the Irving, the Fifth Avenue and other names with distinctly local flavor. If the British evacuated New York 100 years ago, they have managed to get back since.

The Lansing Republican says: The "combined" editorial talent of the Democratic and Greenback parties has not been strong enough to move the political canoe of Governor Begole off the free-pass on which it was cast several months ago.

The Oakland County Advertiser is tempered evenly and judiciously. It says of a familiar subject: Many people sneer at civil service reform, and there has really been a great deal in it that deserved to be sneered at but the fair-minded man who has observed its workings must confess that there is much more good than evil in it.

The Concord Enterprise speaks of a lecture on the Shaw family.

The Elmira Gazette calls on its business men to associate their capital for new enterprises.

The Charlevoix Journal alluding to the crime of the day concludes an article: Whatever the cause, or whatever the remedy, the daily grist grows larger and the public readers, are shocked for a moment, then apparently forget and move on unconcerned.

The Detroit Journal says: Carlisle's nomination for the Speakership on the first ballot was a signal triumph for the free trade wing of the Democratic party.

The Grand Rapids Post, with apparent artless humor says of General Rosenbergs: He proposes to organize the Democratic voters of the country in small groups and grand armies, with a chief for each division, and to collect 20 cents per year from every voter. He estimates that this plan will give the Campaign Committee an annual income of $1,500,000. This plan is so much more innocent than to assess officeholders, you know.

The Petoskey Record, on hard times says: Our advice to business men in general is summed up in this: Buy close and don't over stock; keep a stiff upper lip and stand together; and fix your north road if you have to put the price of a new overcoat into it and wear your old one.

The Lapeer Democrat registers its judgment: Popular opinion is fast reaching the point where stern measures with Mormonism will be justified.

The Three Rivers Tribune is for a change on our criminal code. Recent horrors in the criminal events of the state of Michigan have drawn pretty general attention to the inadequacy of Michigan law for the protection of her peaceable citizens and the summary and adequate punishment of its offenders.

The Benton Harbor Palladium has its own opinions on Lo. Hear him: There are customs among the Crows that are quite as much in the way of their civilization as the war dance, but they cannot be abolished so long as the government maintains its policy of dependent, and encouraging him in his natural inclination to be a vagrant and vagabond.

The Big Rapids Pioneer has an eye on the green room: It seems impossible to convince the average woman who goes upon the stage that she would look better with less powder upon her face.

The Lowell Journal says: —Yes' we'll take Arthur & Lincoln, if you say so, and with them a majority of the electoral votes next year.

The Detroit Post and Tribune says: Judged by the volume of exchanges the business of the country generally has been steadily declining for some time.

The Flint Globe says of Mormonism It is the remaining "twin relic of barbarism," and it must go.

SONGS NEVER SUNG.

"How does that verse run? Something like this, isn't it?"

"There are who touch the magic string,
And noisy fame is proud to win them;
Alas! for those who never sing,
But die with all their music in them."

"Yes, that's beautiful, pathetic and true," said our representative. "The poet alludes to people who are somehow suppressed, and never get their full allowance of joy and air. Which reminds me of a letter shown me the other day by HISCOX & CO., of New York, signed by Mr. E. C. Williams, of Chapman, Snyder & Co., Pa., a prominent business man of that place. He writes:

"I have suffered with asthma for over forty years, and had a terrible attack in December and January, 1882. I hardly know what prompted me to take PARKER'S TONIC. I did so, and the first day I took four doses. The effect astonished me. That night I slept as if nothing was the matter with me, and have ever since. I have had colds since, but no asthma. My breathing is now as perfect as if I had never known that disease. If you know of any one who has the asthma tell him in my name that PARKER'S TONIC will cure it—even after forty years." There was a man who escaped the fate of those whom the poet laments.

This preparation, which has heretofore been known as PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, will hereafter be advertised and sold under the name of PARKER'S TONIC. Inasmuch as ginger is really an unimportant ingredient, and unprincipled dealers are constantly deceiving their customers by substituting inferior preparations under the name of ginger, we drop the misleading word. There is no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of PARKER'S GINGER TONIC contain the genuine medicine. If the facsimile signature of HISCOX & CO. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.

HIS OPINION.

In Clear Sentences an Authority adds his own to the popular Judgment.

171 West Tenth Street, New York, Aug. 11, 1880.

Messrs. Seabury & Johnson: I am slow to pin my faith to any new curative agent. Benson's Caprine Plaster has won my good opinion. I find it an exceptionally clean plaster to use and rapid in its action; many tests of its qualities in my own family, and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, none so helpful in cases of Lambe back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, and Lumbago. Very truly yours, H. H. KANE, M. D., Jan-In-Chief of the De Quincey Home he Caprine, 25 cts. Chemists, New York.
